

The Federal Internship for Newcomers Program

What is the Federal Internship for Newcomers Program?

The Federal Internship for Newcomers (FIN) Program offers eligible newcomers a chance to gain temporary work experience with federal, provincial and municipal organizations.

Since 2010, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) has delivered the Program in partnership with participating immigrant serving organizations (ISOs) that pre-screen and prepare candidates for this highly competitive application process.

Each year, over 1000 candidates apply to the Program, but only about 100 receive placements. Since the process is so competitive, preparing requires a lot of time and effort.

To be eligible, you must meet these requirements:

- Be a permanent resident or Canadian citizen, in Canada for ten years or less, counting from the day you became a permanent resident to the date you apply (from May 2 to 5, 2019) and live in Canada at the time of application.
- Live or work in the National Capital Region, the Greater Toronto Area, Halifax, St. John’s, or Victoria.
- Be registered with and pre-screened by a partner immigrant serving organization and have your files current and updated before April 5, 2019.
- Meet the education requirements for the category to which you want to apply.
- Have the necessary language skills in English or French. You must have one of the following:

- ❖ Diplomas, transcripts, or certificates from a recognized, post-secondary institution (in Canada or abroad) that show that you successfully graduated or completed a program in English or in French OR
- ❖ Proof of language skills through tests, that include:
 - Canadian Language Benchmarks of 7 or more in each competency, in either English or French*
 - Canadian English Language Proficiency Index Program: CELPIP-G 7*
 - International English Language Testing System: IELTS 6*
 - Test d'évaluation de Français: \(TEF\)*
 - 310-348 in speaking and writing (expression orale/écrite)
 - 249-279 in listening (compréhension orale)
 - 207-232 in reading (compréhension écrite)
 - Test de connaissance du français \(TCF Canada\)*
 - 10-11 in speaking and writing (expression orale et écrite)
 - 458-502 in listening (compréhension de l'oral)
 - 453-498 in reading (compréhension de l'écrit)

Only scores obtained on or after May 2, 2017, in these tests will be considered.*

Strong language skills are extremely important to be successful in the FIN Program process. You will be evaluated on language at every stage. Therefore, even if you meet these requirements, take the advice of your employment counsellor if they recommend that you improve your language skills before applying.

These are the types of positions available through the FIN Program in the National Capital Region. Do you have the qualifications and experience that match any of these requirements?
