SUPPORTING NEWCOMERS AND REFUGEES WITH LOWER LANGUAGE SKILLS TO FIND EMPLOYMENT IN THE OTTAWA REGION

Newcomers and refugees with lower language skills can benefit from tailored support to navigate the job market. At RTE, we help clients make the most of their talents, supporting them to explore opportunities that match their interests, skills and strengths. We also provide sector specific language training that can help remove barriers to employment, and lead to a more secure future. Clients are accompanied on their journey to employment through participation in a variety of job search preparation activities.

What do newcomers gain by participating in the program?

- Personalized support to identify goals and create an action plan to improve workplace language skills and secure employment.
- Access to employment counselling and ongoing support to overcome barriers to employment.
- Opportunities to participate in job-readiness workshops where you will:
  - develop the skills and confidence to conduct your job search;
  - gain a better understanding of the Canadian workplace;
  - develop a Canadian-style resume;
  - enhance your interview skills.
- Connections to employers through networking events, employer referrals, and job matching activities.
- Access to enhanced workplace language and communication skills courses including On-The-Job Language Training for various occupations.
- Referrals to other services, such as language and computer courses, with World Skills or other community organizations.

The Roadmap to Employment program is for someone who:

- ◆ has a Canadian Language Benchmark (CLB) level 3-5;
- ◆ is a resident of Ontario;
- ◆ is a Permanent Resident, Convention Refugee or Live-in Caregiver, and;
- ◆ is legally permitted to work in Canada.
